Then, having accomplished these things, I think that the FI should contact such organizations as the Tobacco Association of the U.S. (TAAUS) and the Leaf Tobacco Exporters' Association (LTAE) with the proposal that they contact the respective governments of the tobacco exporting countries and ask that these governments be prepared to arrange for some sort of official certification that no pesticides unacceptable for use in the U.S. have been used in producing the tobacco being exported to the U.S.

I fully realize that what I have proposed is a large undertaking requiring the continuing cooperation and effort of a lot of people, but I think that if started now, it can be accomplished in time to be ready for the next crisis or even perhaps in time to avert another crisis on this particular subject.
